THE OUTLET SEWER.

Belleville's Committee Gives Consent to Building the Sewer Through That Town.

At the meeting of the outgoing Township Committee of Belleville, held Monday night, an agreement was entered into by the Committee with the Orange City Council in relation to the proposed sewer. By the terms of the agreement, which is a sort of compromise, the Orange authorities are permitted to lay the sewer through the township as far as Bridge Street. At this point it crosses the Second River into Newark and has its outlet near the Midland bridge. By the provisions of the agreement the receiving basin will not be located in Belleville, and the sewer is to be flushed at high tide.

It is the general opinion that the agreement which has been entered into will save the township considerable money in the question of a suit at law and throw the legal battle upon Newark. It is claimed that Orange would have fought for the right of way, and in the end probably won the suit, after a large cost to Belleville.—Belleville Press.

AT THE THEATRES.

Mme. Janauschek at Miner's. During the week commencing Tuesday, May 10, the celebrated actress, Madame Janauschek, supported by her own efficient dramatic company will appear at Miner's Newark Theatre, where she will present the celebrated play entitled, "The Harvest Moon," with a splendid cast. Mme. Janauschek is a remarkably capable actress, and her reputation is so well established that the announcement of her appearance at this theatre is sure to be followed by a large clique attendance.

At Waldmann's Newark Opera-house. Peggy Pryde, the London music hall star, better known as the daughter of Jennie Hill, will play her farewell engagement at Waldmann's Theatre next week. She was seen there when Reilly and Wood's big show played their former engagement, and created a most favorable impression. Miss Pryde not only proved herself to be a charming vocalist and clever dancer, but a gifted character comedienne. Among her latest hits is the song, "On The Sly." Miss Florence Miller, the Southern beauty, has scored a decided success as Charlie Offmanous in the burlesque "Hades and the 400." She is pretty and talented. Miss Miller will introduce during this engagement the celebrated serpentine dance, of which she claims to be the originator. Miss Miller is supported by the only Pat Reilly and a strong company of attractive burlesquers. In the company also are Hughes, McBride and Waters, who give a scientific boxing exhibition; Fielding, the juggler; Fred. H. Leslie, with canine actors; the Washburn sisters, noted alike for their beauty and vocal gifts, and Frank Goldie and Sallie St. Clair, in skirt, reel, jig and wing dancing.

The Rev. Mr. Gruhnert Married. The Rev. Herman C. Gruhnert, pastor of the German Presbyterian Church of Orange, a graduate of the German Theological Seminary of this town, of the class of '75, and Miss Louise Burkhardt, daughter of John Burkhardt, also of Orange, were married in Mr. Gruhnert's church on William Street, at seven o'clock on Wednesday evening. The church was filled with friends and invited guests. The Rev. W. A. Nordt of the Second German Presbyterian Church, Newark, officiated. The Rev. John F. Kern of the Orange Valley German Presbyterian Church was best man, and Miss Teresa Handel of Orange was maid of honor. The ushers were Paul Handel and George Egner. The bride wore a dress of white Henrietta cloth, and the maid of honor one of Nile green cashmere.

A Double Wedding. A double wedding of well-known Bloomfield young people took place in Newark on Wednesday evening. George Jacobus of Broad Street was married to Miss Edith Lyon and William Jacobus of Pitt Street was married to Miss May Keller of Verona. Only the immediate families of the contracting parties were present to witness the ceremony. After a short wedding tour they will reside in Bloomfield.

There was a large attendance at the missionary meeting of the Sunday-school last Sunday afternoon. Nicholas Arnold, superintendent of the Fifty-second Street (N. Y.)
